To the Board of Managers
Lambright Financial Solutions, LLC

Independent Auditor's Report

We have audited the accompanying statements of financial condition of Lambright Financial Solutions, LLC as of December 31, 2007 and December 31, 2006, and the related statements of income, changes in member's equity, and cash flows for the years then ended that you are filing pursuant to rule 17a-5 under the Securities Exchange Act of 1934. These financial statements are the responsibility of the Company's management. Our responsibility is to express an opinion on these financial statements based on our audits.

We conducted our audits in accordance with auditing standards generally accepted in the United States of America. Those standards require that we plan and perform the audit to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the financial statements are free of material misstatement. An audit includes examining, on a test basis, evidence supporting the amounts and disclosures in the financial statements. An audit also includes assessing the accounting principles used and significant estimates made by management, as well as evaluating the overall financial statement presentation. We believe that our audits provide a reasonable basis for our opinion.

In our opinion, the financial statements referred to above present fairly, in all material respects, the financial position of Lambright Financial Solutions, LLC as of December 31, 2007 and December 31, 2006 and the results of its operations and its cash flows for the years then ended in conformity with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America.

Our audits were conducted for the purpose of forming an opinion on the basic financial statements taken as a whole. The information contained in the schedule on page 10 is presented for purposes of additional analysis and is not a required part of the basic financial statements, but is supplementary information required by rule 17a-5 under the Securities Exchange Act of 1934. Such information has been subjected to the auditing procedures applied in the audit of the basic financial statements and, in our opinion, is fairly stated in all material respects in relation to the basic financial statements taken as a whole.

Lambright Financial Solutions, LLC

Notes To Financial Statements December 31, 2007

Note 1 – Significant Accounting Policies

Description of Business

Lambright Financial Solutions, LLC is a registered broker and dealer. As a securities broker and dealer, the Company is engaged in transition management and various security trading activities. The Company will continue until December 31, 2099, unless dissolved before then. As a limited liability company, the members have no personal liability for the debts of the Company or any of its losses.

Accounting Method

The accounts of the Company are maintained on the accrual basis of accounting. All transactions are recognized on the trade date of the underlying securities regardless of when cash is received. If cash is not received on the trade date a receivable is recorded. The Company uses the direct write-off method for uncollectible accounts receivable.

Estimates and Assumptions

The process of preparing financial statements in conformity with generally accepted accounting principles requires the use of estimates and assumptions regarding certain types of assets, liabilities, revenues, and expenses. Such estimates primarily relate to unsettled transactions and events as of the date of the financial statements. Accordingly, upon settlement, actual results may differ from estimated amounts.

Property and Equipment

Purchases of property and equipment are recorded at their cost. Depreciation of $7,180 and $6,158 for the years ended December 31, 2007 and 2006, respectively, has been computed using straight line rates of depreciation.

Statement of Cash Flows

For purposes of the statement of cash flows, the Company considers all highly liquid debt instruments purchased with a maturity date of three months or less, to be cash equivalents. The Company does not pay income taxes. The Company paid $2,085 and $819 in interest during 2007 and 2006, respectively. The Company had one noncash transaction in 2007. Part of the proceeds from an investment sale was received in the form of a note receivable.

Income Taxes

The Company has elected under the Internal Revenue Code, to be taxed as a partnership. Accordingly, the members rather than the Company, will be taxed on income. Therefore, no provision or liability for income taxes has been included in these financial statements.

Lambright Financial Solutions, LLC

Notes To Financial Statements December 31, 2007

Note 2 – Investment in Nonaffiliated Company

The Company had obtained a 20% interest in a nonaffiliated company. The Company did not have significant influence over this investment, therefore it was accounted for under the cost method. In 2007, the company sold its interest in the non-affiliated company for $27,604. This amount is subject to change depending on the clients retained by the non-affiliated company.

Note 3 – Furniture and Equipment

The following is a summary of furniture and equipment (at cost) less accumulated depreciation:

	2007	2006
Office furniture	$ 14,161	$ 16,020
Office equipment	30,727	28,539
Leasehold improvements	10,518	10,518
	55,406	55,077
Less: Accumulated depreciation	14,759	7,966
Total	$ 40,647	$ 47,111

Note 4 - Commitments

The Company is committed under operating leases for the rental of office space. Annual base payments under these agreement are shown below:

For The Years Ended December
2008	$53,069
2009	49,095
2010	50,522
2011	29,957

The Company is also committed under the above lease to make monthly payments for operating expenses related to common tenant expenses. These payments will vary each year. The Company paid $27,842 in these operating costs during 2007, which is included in rental expenses.

Rental expense for 2007 and 2006 was $70,256 and $37,438 respectively.

Lambright Financial Solutions, LLC

Notes To Financial Statements December 31, 2007

Note 5 - Subsequent Event - Sublease

In 2008, the Company amended their current lease, which allows them to sublet the current premises and adds an additional space that the Company will occupy for two months. The Company subsequently entered into an office sublease agreement. Annual sublease rental under this agreement is shown below:

For The Years Ended December
2008	$57,060
2009	69,899
2010	71,325
2011	42,438

Note 6 - Concentrations of Credit Risk

The Company maintains cash balances with banks. These accounts are insured by the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation up to $100,000. The Company, as of December 31, 2007 has $85,377 in excess of those insured limits.

Note 7 - Net Capital Requirements

The Company is required to maintain a minimum net capital by SEC Rule 15c3-1. Net capital required under the rule is the greater of $250,000 or 6-2/3% of the aggregate indebtedness of the Company. On December 31, 2007, the Company had net capital of $462,695, which was $212,695 in excess of its required net capital of $250,000. The ratio of aggregate indebtedness to net capital was 0.122 to 1.

Note 8 - Control Requirements

There are no amounts, as of December 31, 2007, to be reported pursuant to the possession or control requirements under Rule 15c3-3. The Company is in compliance with the exemptive provisions of Rule 15c3-3 under paragraph (k)(2)(i) and thus is exempt from the provisions of Rule 15c3-3.

To the Board of Managers of
Lambright Financial Solutions, LLC

In planning and performing our audit of the financial statements of Lambright Financial Solutions, LLC, as of and for the year ended December 31, 2007, in accordance with auditing standards generally accepted in the United States of America, we considered the Company's internal control over financial reporting (internal control) as a basis for designing our auditing procedures for the purpose of expressing our opinion on the financial statements, but not for the purpose of expressing an opinion on the effectiveness of the Company's internal control. Accordingly, we do not express an opinion on the effectiveness of the Company's internal control.

Also, as required by rule 17a-5(g)(1) of the Securities and Exchange Commission (SEC), we have made a study of the practices and procedures followed by the Company, including consideration of control activities for safeguarding securities and including tests of such practices and procedures that we considered relevant to the objectives stated in rule 17(a)-5(g), in making the periodic computations of aggregate indebtedness (or aggregate debits) and net capital under rule 17a-3(a)(11) and for determining compliance with the exemptive provisions of rule 15c-3-3. Because the Company does not carry securities accounts for customers or perform custodial functions relating to customer securities, we did not review the practices and procedures followed by the Company in any of the following:

1. Making the quarterly securities examinations, counts, verifications, and comparisons, and the recordation of differences required by rule 17a-13
2. Complying with the requirements for prompt payment for securities under Section 8 of Federal Reserve Regulation T of the Board of Governors of the Federal Reserve System
3. Obtaining and maintaining physical possession or control of all fully paid and excess margin securities of customers as required by Rule 15c3-3.

The management of the Company is responsible for establishing and maintaining internal control and the practices and procedures referred to in the preceding paragraph. In fulfilling this responsibility, estimates and judgments by management are required to assess the expected benefits and related costs of controls, and of the practices and procedures referred to in the preceding paragraph, and to assess whether those practices and procedures can be expected to achieve the SEC's above-mentioned objectives. Two of the objectives of internal control and the practices and procedures are to provide management with reasonable but not absolute assurance that the assets for which the Company has responsibility are safeguarded against loss from unauthorized use or disposition, and that transactions are executed in accordance with management's authorization and recorded properly to permit preparation of financial statements in conformity with generally accepted accounting principles. Rule 17a-5(g) lists additional objectives of the practices and procedures listed in the preceding paragraph.

To the Board of Managers of
Page Two

Because of inherent limitations in internal control and the practices and procedures referred to above, errors or fraud may occur and not be detected. Also, projection of any evaluation of them to future periods is subject to the risk that they may become inadequate because of changes in conditions or that the effectiveness of their design and operation may deteriorate.

A control deficiency exists when the design or operation of a control does not allow management or employees, in the normal course of performing their assigned functions, to prevent or detect misstatements on a timely basis. A significant deficiency is a control deficiency, or combination of control deficiencies, that adversely affects the entity's ability to initiate, authorize, record, process, or report financial data reliably in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles (GAAP) such that there is more than a remote likelihood that a misstatement of the entity's financial statements that is more than inconsequential will not be prevented or detected by the entity's internal control.

A material weakness is a significant deficiency, or combination of significant deficiencies, that results in more than a remote likelihood that a material misstatement of the financial statements will not be prevented or detected by the entity's internal control.

Our consideration of internal control was for the limited purpose described in the first and second paragraphs and would not necessarily identify all deficiencies in internal control that might be material weaknesses. We did not identify any deficiencies in internal control and control activities for safeguarding securities that we consider to be material weaknesses, as defined above. We did identify a material weakness related to the lack of segregation of duties and related to the control over the selection and application of accounting principles in conformity with GAAP. This weakness does not affect our report on these financial statements nor the internal control or control activities for safeguarding securities.

We understand that practices and procedures that accomplish the objectives referred to in the second paragraph of this report are considered by the SEC to be adequate for its purposes in accordance with the Securities Exchange Act of 1934 and related regulations, and that practices and procedures that do not accomplish such objectives in all material respects indicate a material inadequacy for such purposes. Based on this understanding and on our study, we believe that the Company's practices and procedures, as described in the second paragraph of this report, were adequate at December 31, 2007, to meet the SEC's objectives.

This report is intended solely for the information and use of the Board of Managers, management, the SEC, the FINRA, and other regulatory agencies which rely on Rule 17a-5(g) under the Securities Exchange Act of 1934 in their regulation of registered brokers and dealers, and is not intended to be and should not be used by anyone other than these specified parties.
